INTERESTING PAPER BEFORE PHILOSOPHERS

Einstein Theory Discussed By Large Gathering.

MR. CLARKE, SPEAKER.

Much Enlightening Discussion Followed Reading of Paper.

The Philosophical Society held a successful meeting at Strathcona Hall last night, when R. J. Clarke, B.A., presented an interesting and highly instructive address on the technical and extremely complicated question of "Einstein's Gravitational Theory or Theory of Relativity."

A large audience, representing the members from the various faculties and a group of outsiders interested in this scientific question, gathered in the spacious assembly hall. The president, L. A. Sperber, opened the meeting and welcomed the large audience. He then called upon the secretary to read the minutes of the preceding meeting, which were duly adopted. The president then introduced, with a few well-chosen remarks, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Clarke treated this question in a semi-technical manner, and by the aid of illustrative and descriptive examples on the blackboard, he succeeded in enlightening the interested audience on this thorny question.

The following is a brief account of a few of the outstanding points brought out by the speaker:

At first the earth was considered flat, then came the astounding revelation that the earth was round. Later came the explanation that the earth was spherical, that the earth was moving. Copernicus expounded the theory that the sun was still and that the earth revolved. Finally, we have Newton's Laws of Gravity and Motion. These we have regarded during the past centuries as the criteria of computation, and have looked upon them as self-evident truths.

And now we have Einstein coming along and telling us that Newton's views of space and time are unnecessary, and that they are not universally true. "Light," said Clarke, "is not propagated instantaneously. Time elapses before a ray from the sun reaches the earth. Light is said to possess not merely velocity but also energy, and when energy can be transmitted through space, there either must be something to carry it across or it passes through space without rest."

ARTS UNDERGRAD. TO HOLD MEETING

Much Business To Be Discussed—Dinner To Be Arranged For.

The monthly meeting of the Arts Undergraduate Society will be held Monday, March 15th, at one p.m. That a large representative attendance grace the meeting with their presence is essential, as there are matters to be discussed that are vitally important to every man in the faculty of Arts. Many matters were left indefinitely in the hands of the executive that have since been attended to, and upon which reports are in order. The Memorial Tablet for Arts men killed in action which the Society has planned to erect to honor and perpetuate their memory, is resolving itself into more definite and fuller details which will have to go before the society on Monday for debate or consideration. The results of this meeting will be action one way or another in choosing design and specifications for the work, and a definite start on operations will be made at the conclusion of Monday's meeting.

Prices have been received for the crowning event of that faculty for the season, the Undergraduate Dinner; at the last meeting, it was definitely decided to hold the dinner in the near future; Monday's meeting will decide the location of the festive occasion and the aqueous or non-aqueous nature of the beverages. Last year, the debating on the question was "hot and heavy"—this year, the same enthusiasm

COPELAND AND FORBES WIN IN ELECTIONS

Students Intrust Favorite Institutions To Representatives.

ACTIVE CAREERS.

Both Successful Candidates Saw Active Service.

The elections held at the Union yesterday resulted in the election of J. G. Copeland as Union President, and of C. Forbes as President of the Athletic Association, both by large majorities. Unhappily, as will be seen from the figures, large numbers of students neglected to vote, thus evincing a lamentable lack of interest in two of McGill's most important institutions.

Copeland, President-elect of the Union is a native of Cornwall, Ontario, where he received his primary education. He came to McGill in 1912, and entered the class of Arts '16. From then on he took a deep interest in College activities, and held several important offices. He enlisted in 1916; saw service in France; was wounded at Courcellette in 1916; and was discharged the following year. He is now a member of the class of Med. '22.

Forbes is a Montserrat, having attended the High School. He saw three years of service overseas. He has always taken an active interest in athletics, having played with the Intermediate Basketball team in 1914, the Senior Football team in 1919, and the Senior Basketball team of this year. He is a member of Sci. '21.

The results of the elections are as follows:

President of the Union.
J. G. Copeland . . . . .	370
C. C. Stewart . . . . .	276
President of the Athletic Association.
C. Forbes . . . . .	292
H. Flisk . . . . .	193
J. King . . . . .	161

R. V. C. HOCKEY MATCHES

Notice! The final word about the R.V.C. hockey matches is as follows: On Saturday, March 13, at 6.30 p.m., the return match will be played, R.V. C. vs. Macdonald. This match will be played off at the Coliseum rink.

On Monday, March 15, at 7.00 p.m., the return match will be played, R.V. C. vs. Montreal West. This match will take place at the Victoria rink. Everyone will have an opportunity to witness these matches as the tickets are on sale. They may be had from members of the R.V.C. hockey team, and are 25 cents each. These matches will certainly prove worth while to every student who is interested in hockey.

As a result of the less thirsty, and will beyond a doubt air their views before their class-mates.

Election time draws nigh—already nomination sheets in Art. Stagg's notice-box are drawing crowds that block the hallway and threaten to violate the fire-laws likewise to make an impassable barrier between the outside world and the Dean's office. There is plenty of room in the same notice-board for more nominations, and doubtless the men will display energy enough and effort enough to warrant an election for every office. According to the constitution, there are three officers to be elected at this time: the President, who is to be elected from the incoming 4th year, the Vice-President, from the incoming 3rd year, and the Treasurer, from the incoming 2nd year. The date for the close of nominations, also the date of elections will be named at Monday's auspicious assembly. You have paid your precious government parchment for a membership to the Undergrad. Society: get your money's worth, and have your say as a member.

ORCHESTRA TO APPEAR FIRST TIME SUNDAY

First Public Appearance In Four Years.

NOTED SOLOISTS.

Much Labor Incurred In Preparation Of Programme.

The McGill Students' Orchestra will give a concert in the Union on Sunday next, March 14th, at three o'clock. This will be the Orchestra's first public appearance since 1916. It is to be hoped that the students will turn out in force to welcome it back to college life.

The executive has had immense difficulties to contend with in nursing the Orchestra back to life. The nature of those difficulties is immaterial here. They are merely instanced because it is felt that some explanation of the Orchestra's tardy appearance is in order.

Considerable expense has been incurred in preparing for this concert. It has accordingly been found necessary to take a silver collection in order to meet, to some extent, the cost incurred. There will be no fixed admission fee. Students may therefore make their entertainment as cheap or as costly as they please. The outlay will be limited solely by purse and conscience.

The Orchestra's able conductor, Mr. J. J. Gagnier, has chosen a programme which, while within the capacity of the performers, ought to be well worth hearing. The numbers have been carefully selected to suit all tastes, without degenerating to musical rubbish. Nothing will be played which could offend the most fastidious critic. Nothing will be played which is beyond the comprehension of the least experienced listener. Moreover, the men have worked hard to attain a fair degree of proficiency in execution.

A word about our soloists may not be out of place here. Their part of the programme will be a good concert in itself.

Miss Margaret Bennett is well known in musical circles here. She is at present contralto soloist in the choir of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, and is a member of the staff of the McGill Conservatorium of Music.

Mr. Yves Lamontagne, Science '15, needs no introduction to McGill students. He enjoys an enviable reputation as a cellist, and played solos at many of our concerts in the Orchestra's early days before the war.

Mr. Philip Presner, Law '21, was formerly conductor of our Orchestra, and is well known about college as a violinist of no mean repute.

McGILL SKI CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Held At Hall Last Evening.

The McGill Ski Club held its annual meeting in Strathcona Hall, last evening, at 5.15 o'clock. The business taken up at this meeting was the annual reports of the out-going officers and the election of new officers.

The honorary president of the club, Lieut.-Col. Herbert Molson, M.C., after being introduced by Eric Price with a few well-chosen words, stated that he had followed the doings of the McGill Ski Club throughout the winter with great interest. He expressed his willingness to aid the club in every possible way during the coming year.

Col. Molson was then requested to present the prizes won by the various members of the Ski Club during the past year. In passing, it must be mentioned that Alex. was the recipient of a very handsome cup, presented by Col. Molson himself for the highest aggregate number of points in the recent Carnival.

The business of the club was now resumed. Duncan Anderson read the secretary's report, and reviewed the club's activities and growth during the past year. The treasurer's report was presented by W. F. Macklalar.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:
President—W. K. Rutherford.
Vice-President—Don. Gordon.
Secretary—Don. Foss.
Treasurer—O. Owens.

the exclusive designs which our selection embraces — we would prefer the pleasure of showing them to you at your early convenience.

There is, by the way, a very select assortment of Oriental Pearl Shirt Studs which should be of considerable interest to many.

Y.M.C.A. HELD ANNUAL MEET AT THE HALL

Year's Work Reviewed — Officers Elected.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Year Has Been a Very Prosperous One—Bright Outlook For Future.

The McGill Y.M.C.A. held its annual meeting at the Hall last night to complete the business of the year and install the new officers.

The work of the year has been up to standard along all lines, and some new work begun which promises well for the future. The conveners of committees gave full reports, of which the following is a summary:

1. At the beginning of the session a large number of students were assisted in securing rooms and board, and supplied with information of various kinds.

2. Two Freshman receptions were held and were well attended by the new men who met there the Deans, presidents of college societies and others, and received much good advice.

3. Two hundred men were served at a Thanksgiving dinner, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

4. The usual social functions, such as "Conversations," skating and snowshoeing parties have been efficiently handled by the social committee, and have been well supported by the students.

5. A new committee has been formed to do for students work similar to that done for soldiers by the Hospitality League overseas. A list of houses willing to entertain students has been secured through the churches, and a considerable number of men have been introduced to homes in the city. This work is expected to develop and become more effective at the beginning of the college year.

6. The Social Service Club in November put on a series of lectures with films dealing with sex problems. The meetings were held in Central Y.M.C.A. The series covered four days, and included special afternoon meetings for the ladies of the University, and one for High School boys. The speaker was Dr. O. C. J. Withrow, of Toronto. The school down town for newboys and messenger boys was continued by the club this year. On Wednesday last about forty of these boys were entertained at supper in Strathcona Hall by the club and the ladies of the R.V.C.

This club has now become a separate University organization, and will not in future be considered a part of the Y.M.C.A. work.

7. A Foreign Students' Club has been organized with the assistance of the Y.M.C.A. for the sake of fellowship and to provide for the reception and care of students coming in from other countries.

8. Bible Study was somewhat late in getting under way, owing to some necessary changes in the organization. Six groups were organized and have continued to date.

9. Religious meetings have been held at irregular intervals. Strenuous efforts have brought rather discouraging results in the way of attendance at these. Among our speakers have been, Dr. Grenfell; K. J. Saunders and B. C. Street, of India; and J. Stitt Wilson, of California. The latter gave a series of three stirring addresses on "Constructive Christian Democracy." From 200 to 300 students attended each of these meetings.

Sings have been held in the Reading Room nearly every Sunday after the evening service. These have been attended by 30 to 50 men and women.

University Services have been held in several of the churches at the request of our committee, at intervals during the session.

Throughout, our policy has been to co-operate with the churches, to advertise their special services, and to link up men in any way possible with them.

10. An outstanding feature of the work this year has been the Student Volunteer Convention at Des Moines. We succeeded in co-operation with the Y.M.C.A. in sending a delegation of 4 members, representing all the faculties of the University as well as the Affiliated Colleges. Results from such a gathering cannot be tabulated, but we have felt a keenness of interest on the part of those who attended which promise much for the future. The delegates have been busy since reporting the Convention to the various churches and societies that had taken an interest in the movement.

The Student Volunteer Band of the University was reorganized early in the year with a membership of 7 or 8, which has now grown to 21. This group has met weekly during the session, and is gradually extending its field of influence.

The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. have worked in close harmony, and practically all our meetings have been held jointly.

At the Canadian Conference at Des Moines, preceding the main convention, the matter of reorganization of the whole student work in Canada was discussed, and resolutions sent down to the various Associations for consideration.

SENIOR PLAY PERFORMANCE TO BE GIVEN

First Presentation Of Play Will Be This Evening.

CURTAIN AT 8.15.

Crowded House Expected When "The Weaker Sex" Is Presented.

The first performance of the Senior Play will be given in the Assembly hall of the Royal Victoria College this evening. Last night the dress rehearsal and everything went quite smoothly, so that the producers of the play are very optimistic about it.

The tickets for the performance have continued to sell very fast throughout the week, and it is expected that there will not be a vacant seat at the performance to-night. While graduates and outsiders are allowed to attend the performance this evening, it does not preclude any student from being present, and a large number are going to be on hand to watch the first showing. The question of evening dress has been bothering many, and an announcement has been asked in this respect. There will undoubtedly be a large part of the audience attired in the regulation theatre costume, but informal dress will be quite in order for any one attending the play.

Those who are going to-night are asked to secure their tickets during the day, as they will save much trouble at the door. There is a large number who have expressed their intention of being present, but have put off buying their tickets to the last moment. This makes it unnecessarily difficult for the students in charge of the production. The tickets can be secured at the Union, Arts Building, or R.V.C. The curtain rises at 8.15 o'clock.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Boyle-Chewton.....Jean Nichol Rhoda Chawton.....Margt. ## ORATORY PRIZES AT WESLEYAN

The Terryberry Oratorical Contest was held at Wesleyan Theological College on Wednesday night. There was a great deal more than the average interest displayed on this occasion; and eleven contestants entered for the much coveted prize.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. with Principal Emyth, B.A., LL.D., as chairman. The Reception Room was filled to its utmost by students and invited friends.

The subject chosen this year was "Some Present Problem of the Church" and the various problems with their solutions were brought before the audience. One special feature of the contest was the appearance for the prize, of several men who for the last three or four years could only attend such a function in dreams.

About 10.30 p.m. the judges—Drs. Ritchie, Welsh and Gifford—withdrawed and after a short deliberation, Dr. Ritchie returned and reported that C. H. Adair, Arts '20 had won the prize. Mr. Adair's subject was: "The Education of the young man for the Ministry," and he presented his views in a concise, logical and well-delivered speech. The winner, not only won the prize by the verdict of the judges, for the majority present would have consigned this honor to him.

Several joint meetings have been held here for the discussion of this subject, and have resulted in a revision of our Constitution and the adoption of a new basis of membership which emphasizes purpose rather than creed.

The year has seen a great revival of college activities, and the Hall has been much in use by the various clubs and societies of the University. Over 120 meetings have been held by student organizations other than the Y.M.C.A. The financial year ending March 10, closes with a deficit of $1,229.73.

The new board of directors elected was as follows:

President—Mr. A. H. McLean, Arts '20
Rec. Sec.—J. Ross, Med. '24.
Treasurer—T. J. Browne, Med. '21.
Directors—
H. R. Ivison, Arts '22.
H. H. Hall, Med. '22.
E. C. Amaron, Arts '22.
W. F. Mackinlay, Arts '22.
L. Ereaux, Med. '23.
R. Hall, Arts '22.
A. Richards, Theol. '21.

MED. '24 WIN IN THEIR SERIES

Proved Themselves the Better Team Last Night in Hockey—Score: 3 to 1.

Last night at the Mount Royal Arena, Med. '24 trimmed Med. '22 to the tune of 3 to 1. The game was fairly fast throughout, considering the condition of the ice and although Med. '22 put up a good fight the continued checking of the Freshmen was too much for them. Both teams started out with their regular line ups. After four minutes play Imbleau of Med. '22 was slightly hurt and was replaced by McIntosh. MacDonald of Med. '24 replaced Kelly. For the first ten minutes Med. '24 kept the disc hovering pretty close to the Med. '22 nets, then Imbleau came back on and made some good rushes for Med. '22. However the defence of Med. '24 was too much for them and the first half ended without any scoring on either side.

Second period—Hardly had a minute elapsed when Langlois made a brilliant rush up centre ice and scored the first goal of the evening. 1 to 0 for Med. '24. Immediately after this Imbleau succeeded in scoring by a shot from the side thus tying the score. Here Med. '24 again made use of spares. Brady replaced Kelly, MacDonald replaced Johnston, Fraser and Brady playing good combination brought the puck up the ice and from in front of the nets Fraser scored from a pass from Brady making the score 2 to 1 for Med. '24. Kelly and Johnston came back on here replacing Langlois and MacDonald for Med. '24. Imbleau replaced Laishley for Med. '22. From now on the play was a little one sided in favor of Med. '24. Kelly made a sudden rush up the ice got through the defence of Med. '22 and scored, the puck going through Stenson's skates. Only three minutes left to play, and although Med. '22 kept going strong the close checking was too much for them. Just before time Fraser made another rush and shot but Stenson was on the job. The playing of Imbleau, McIntyre and Stenson on Med. '22 was exceptionally good. Quackenbush was quite at home in the nets for Med. '24. Langlois and MacDonald played a good forward game and the close checking of the defence on Med. '24 no doubt was a great help in winning the game.

distance. Newton's was the undulatory theory." The speaker then traced and explained the different experiments by the eminent scientists, Faraday, Kelvin, Michelson and Morley, and showed how they gradually led up to the Einstein Theory.

Einstein, by means of a system of neo-Euclidean geometry comes to the conclusion "that absolute motion with respect to ether is not observed, and accelerated motion is not excluded from that." Thus the Euclidean hypotheses of motion are revolutionized, and these laws are not any truer than any other laws, but are merely more convenient to use.

The speaker next treated with question of the deflection of a ray of light near the sun. He said that light is acted on by gravitation, and it is explained without the addition of any new hypothesis.

Some scientists say that Einstein's theory does away with ether, and also that the properties of space affect the measuring instruments used in computations. But whatever may be the fate of this theory, as it stands now, the great advantage of the system is that it is logically consistent, and that the only way it can be upset is by an experimentalist. Whatever may be its fate, it has accomplished a remarkably splendid result in opening up new channels of thought concerning the relation of space, energy, time, etc., and what greater gift can be made to human thought than the opening up of such new fields?

Dr. Sullivan, who was present, took a keen, active part in the discussion that followed, and very ably supplemented the remarks of the previous speaker. Prof. Eave, of the Physics Department, also expressed his views on the subject. Dr. J. W. Hlokon treated very briefly the philosophical aspect of the theory, and expressed his belief that such channels of thought would lead to the closer relationship of Physics and Metaphysics, also that Philosophy and Science would thereby be more firmly linked. He then moved a very cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Clarke, which was seconded by Mr. T. Eichenberg, expressing his sincere appreciation of the address.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, the meeting adjourned, leaving those present with sufficient food for thought concerning the possible progress that can be made by the human mind in scientific investigation.

ORCHESTRA.

The last rehearsal of the Orchestra before the concert on Sunday will take place in the Union on Saturday (tomorrow), at 4.45 p.m. sharp. It is absolutely essential that every man who intends to play on Sunday should be present. Members are requested to be punctual, as there is a lot of work to be done and time is limited.
